New Hampshire’s Housing Supply: Current Estimates and Trends

New Hampshire will have added 19,868 housing units since the 2020 census and is on track to have permitted just shy of 25,000 units by the beginning of 2025 if all units permitted in 2023 are constructed.

According to New Hampshire Housing’s 2023 Statewide Housing Needs Assessment, 32,704 housing units need to be added by 2025 to reach a balanced market by 2040. The 2023 housing survey indicates that it is likely we will reach 75% of this target.

The graph below shows building permits issued since 2002. There has been a general rise in the number of units added since 2011.

New Hampshire communities permitted 4,880 housing units in 2023, bringing the total number in the state to 658,219. While the number of units added was 14% fewer than in 2022 (5,673), it was similar to the number added in 2021 (4,869). Units in multi-unit buildings made up 51% of the total, compared to 46% for single-family.

The graph below illustrates the share of housing units permitted by communities relative to their share of the state’s total population. For instance, only nine communities permitted 100 or more units. These nine communities represent 26.3% of the state’s population, but permitted 47% of the units. By comparison, 127 communities permitted 10 or fewer units. These 127 communities represent 21% of the state’s population and permitted 13% of the units.

In 2024, 18 cities and towns were designated Housing Champions. These communities qualified due to zoning and land use regulations that promote housing and also offer training resources to land use board members. Additionally, they have implemented, or plan to implement, sewer and water improvements and public transportation or walkability improvements to support housing.

The 18 Housing Champion communities were responsible for approving 2,096 housing units, or 43% of the total number of units approved in 2023. They include Boscawen (10), Concord (11), Derry (26), Dover (226), Enfield (16), Farmington (-1), Hinsdale (6), Hooksett (40), Jaffrey (11), Keene (12), Lebanon (240), Manchester (683), Nashua (352), Newport (57), Portsmouth (238), Rochester (125), Salem (26), and Somersworth (18).

Statewide, single-family home permits decreased from 2,450 in 2022 to 2,239 in 2023. However, the percentage of single-family homes permits relative to total permits issued increased slightly, from 43.6% of the total in 2022 to 45.9% of the total in 2023. This follows a two-year decline in percentage of total permits from 59.2% in 2020.

Permits for units in multi-unit buildings also decreased from 3,090 in 2022 to 2,511 in 2023. The percentage of permits for units in multi-unit buildings relative to total permits issued decreased, from 54.5% of the total in 2022 to 51.5% of the total in 2023. However, this follows a two-year increase in percentage of permits for units in multi-unit buildings from 36.8% in 2020. In short, multi-unit permits are making up a greater percentage of total units permitted over the last 4 years.

Manufactured housing units were 2.7% of the total in 2023.

The Invest NH program awarded funds primarily pertaining to multi-unit buildings. While the number of permits issued in multi-unit buildings fell from 2022 to 2023, the InvestNH program has increased the housing supply by 4,721 multi-family units statewide to date. This includes permits issued in 2022, and units that will be included in the 2024 study results.

There are also units in the pipeline from Invest NH that have received approvals, though construction may be delayed due to several factors including difficulty obtaining financing. High interest rates, unfavorable materials and labor costs, materials shortages, and other circumstances have adversely impacted construction schedules.

The table below shows the number of units permitted in each region of the state, compared with the results of the Regional Housing Needs Assessments, published in spring 2023.

| Region | '20 – '23 Housing Units Permitted* | '20 – '24 Year-Round Housing Units Needed |
|--|---|---|
| Central New Hampshire Regional Planning Commission | 1,231 | 3,028 |
| Lakes Region Planning Commission | 2,189 | 2,815 |
| Nashua Regional Planning Commission | 3,249 | 5,143 |
| North Country Council | 1,826 | 1,782 |
| Rockingham Planning Commission | 3,236 | 5,352 |
| Southern New Hampshire Planning Commission | 3,200 | 7,212 |
| Southwest Region Planning Commission | 963 | 1,873 |
| Strafford Regional Planning Commission | 2,197 | 3,289 |
| Upper Valley Lake Sunapee Regional Planning Commission | 1,777 | 2,210 |
| New Hampshire | 19,868 | 32,704 |

*including seasonal units

As indicated above, the regions represented by the North Country Council Assessment and Upper Valley Lake Sunapee RPC Assessment are on track to meet or exceed production of the number of housing units needed between 2020 and 2024. Conversely, despite the high number of units permitted each year in communities represented by the Southern New Hampshire and Central New Hampshire RPC Assessments, those regions are on track to produce only slightly more than half the number of units needed there.

It is important to clarify that the Regional Housing Needs Assessments are projecting the number of housing units needed and available for year-round occupancy, while this report does not distinguish between permitting for year-round versus seasonal occupancy or short-term rentals. As a result, some regions may not be as close to reaching their 2025 housing unit goals as the above table indicates.

Maps 1-11 at the end of this report depict the number of units permitted by county, state, and region for 2023. Map 1 illustrates the number and proportion of building permits issued by county. The highest number of single-family permits were in Rockingham (574) and Hillsborough (340) counties, with Grafton (281), Carroll (237), and Merrimack (207) counties rounding out the top 5. Hillsborough County had by far the highest number of units in multi-unit buildings permitted, at 1,246, followed by Rockingham (316), Strafford (282), Grafton (275), and Belknap (145).

While largely following existing patterns of development around the state, growth by county in 2023 showed a few differences from previous years. In two counties (Hillsborough and Belknap), more permits were issued for units in multi-unit buildings in 2023 than in the previous year. Three counties (Coos, Grafton, Rockingham) saw an increase in the number of single-family permits from the previous year. Two counties (Hillsborough and Strafford) had more permits issued for units in multi-unit buildings than for single-family in 2023, compared to six counties in 2022.

At the community level, 49 cities and towns across New Hampshire issued permits that added more than 1% to their single-family housing stock of the previous year, down from 62 communities in 2022. The following communities issued permits for 50 or more single-family homes in 2023:

|------------|-----------|
| Portsmouth | 110 units |
| Epping | 79 |
| Dover | 66 |
| Pelham | 64 |
| Laconia | 54 |

Due in large part to the InvestNH Program, 62 cities and towns issued permits for units in multi-unit buildings that added more than 1% to their existing multi-unit total, up from 35 in 2022. The following communities issued permits for more than 100 units in multi-unit buildings in 2023:

| | |
|------------|-----------|
| Manchester | 666 units |
| Nashua | 331 |
| Lebanon | 211 |
| Dover | 159 |
| Merrimack | 130 |
| Portsmouth | 121 |

About the data and this series

This report is one in a series of reports published as Current Estimates and Trends in New Hampshire's Housing Supply, last published in January 2024. The State Data Center at OPD and its predecessors have been issuing this series of reports since the mid-1970s. The reports present data that show short- and long-term trends in housing construction and total housing supply.

The building permit data in this report update the 2020 Census and American Community Survey data and are collected via an annual survey of municipalities. Thanks to the efforts of municipalities statewide, the survey enjoys a 100 percent response rate. OPD devotes considerable time checking and refining survey returns to ensure as much consistency as practical. OPD does not conduct any field checks as part of the quality control process and relies upon municipal responses for accuracy.

The Housing Supply series is intended to present the latest annual trends based on reported building permit activity. Data users interested in long-term housing trends (which may span two or three decades) are urged to analyze patterns shown by combining decennial census years with mid-decade permit data. Year-to-year comparisons that mix permits and census years are not valid.

Definition change

To the extent possible, the figures contained herein represent total housing units. In prior years (pre-1990), our data represented only year-round housing units. From 1990 on, the data do not distinguish between year-round and seasonal units, because virtually all homes were built with similar construction characteristics. All units are included in the census and permit data. Some housing units have all the characteristics of year-round units but are in fact used on a seasonal or leisure-time basis.

The data user should remember that the decennial census is essentially a questionnaire asking persons to respond. It is not a detailed field survey of characteristics of housing units. The census effort is not aimed at quantifying or analyzing the seasonal or leisure home sector. Nevertheless, this sector does have an impact on the year-round data.

The problem of distinguishing between seasonal and year-round units also applies to the permit data. Building permits usually do not request information regarding intended use. For this reason, all permits issued for new dwellings are included in this report.

Data limitations

Accounting for conversions is another difficulty in compiling housing supply data. Conversions may increase or decrease the total housing stock. There are many types of conversions: for example, a dwelling could be converted to an office, a single-family home may be converted to two or more dwelling units, or an accessory dwelling unit may be added. Many municipal permit systems are not adept at tabulating the pluses and minuses in dwelling units due to conversions. The same is true of demolitions. Often, a demolition permit does not require reporting the number of dwelling units involved.

The categorizing of row- or townhouses, often referred to as condominiums, is difficult. In the past, local officials were asked to report them under the single-family category. Nevertheless, this structure type has caused confusion among some local officials. Beginning with the 1990 report, any structure that is attached is reported as multi-family. This includes condominium units as well as structures that may have been single-family houses but now have accessory dwelling units.

Building permits are typically valid for one year. Some permits never result in actual construction and the permit expires. Starting in 1990, OPD requested each municipality to report any expired permits from the previous year. These figures show the number of structures and units not completed due to the expiration of the building permit or change in plans by the builder. Without this information, there is a possibility of double counting if a permit is re-issued. When expired permits are reported, OPD reduces the number of permits reported in the prior year.
